Song During Ceremony

(We do not suggest music during the ceremony, even during unity ceremonies; however if there is a song choice that you want, please fill in below)

- Custom_____

Soloist or Reading during ceremony?

If you have ANYONE speaking besides the bride, groom, or minister during the ceremony you may need a microphone for them. (1) Handheld microphone is included if you need it in addition to the lapel microphone.

- YES, I need a handheld microphone and stand for a soloist or reader
- NO, only the Groom, Bride, and Minister will be speaking

Ideas for Ceremony

Unity Candle

The unity candle is very traditional and common. There would be 3 candle set up on a table/stand. The Mother of the Bride would light the left candle as she is seated. The Mother of the Groom lights the right candle as she is seated. Then during the ceremony, as the minister explains, the bride and groom would each grab a candle (lit by his/her mother) and together light the center candle to signify two becoming one.

Sand Ceremony

The Sand Ceremony is increasingly more popular. Similar to the Unity candle, the bride and groom would each have a vase of sand (should be contrasting colors). The bride and groom would pour the sand together in a vase/bowl, to symbolize that the grains of sand, once separated, can never again be separated, and are now one. This can also be done to include children of either the bride or groom, by having an additional vase of sand representing the child. With multiple colors of sand, this can make a neat display in your new home.

Letter Ceremony

The letter ceremony is a great way to express your love & commitment to each other. The bride and groom would each write a letter to each other explaining why they love each other, and things they love about each other. These letters would be sealed so no one has read the letter except the person who wrote it. The letters would then be placed in a box (usually wooden, or something nice), along with a bottle of wine, and two glasses. This would be sealed until the 5th anniversary of the couple, so that they could open it, enjoy the wine together, and remind themselves and each other of the reasons for their strong love.

Break Out Dances

A fun idea to spice up your First Dance, Father Daughter Dance, or Mother Son Dance is to do a "Breakout Dance". This would be where you start the dance with a slow song, and then have a "Scratch" sound effect, and go into something upbeat and fun. You can just dance off the cuff, or even choreograph a routine that you practice to prior to the wedding. You can do this with just 2 songs, or include parts of several different songs.

Bridal party Dance

- "Bust a move" Young MC
- "Wobble" V.I.C.

Replacement Garter

This is where you have the gentleman who catches the garter, put it on the leg of the Lady who caught the bouquet. This can be funny for everyone, but it may be too much depending on the crowd. Let us know whether or not you want to do this. Choose your own song or from list above.

- Yes No Song: _____

Other Special Dances

Please list if there are any other special dances we have not included that you would like. An example of this would be if the Bride/Groom have children and wanted to dance with their children, or if there is an uncle, aunt, grandparent, etc. you would want to dedicate a dance to.

How to Dance at a Wedding?

As helpful as our WEDDING PLANNER is, our Website is very helpful too. Not only do we have all the fun dance ideas, but we show you the moves too! There is a "how to" video on every single line/group dance we suggest. This way you can be prepared to know all the fun line dances, shuffles, and group dances...new and old. There are many funny dance move ideas on the website in addition.

Fun Icebreaker Games & Dances

Anniversary Dance Yes No

The Anniversary Dance is when the DJ invites all the married couples to the dance floor. Usually a slower song works best for this. You have on the dance floor, married couples in their 20's, all the way to their 80's. This is a fun dance that includes all ages. After a minute of dancing, the DJ would announce "except for the Bride and Groom, if you have been married less than 1 year, please leave the dance floor". This would continue (5 years, 10 years, etc.) until you end up with the Bride and Groom, and the couple that has been married the longest. Usually the crowd is eager to applaud at how long they have been married. Then the DJ would ask a quick word of advice since they have been married so long. This is a fun dance that includes all ages, and can be a great ice breaker.

Song: _____

Dollar Dance / Money Dance Yes No

The Dollar dance is a dance where the bride and groom are on the dance floor. The DJ would announce that the dollar dance is a way to give the bride and groom a little spending cash for the honey moon. So usually the maid of honor would stand at the dance floor, and collect $1.00, (or more) from each guests wanting to dance with the bride or groom. It's a fun way to include people that might not have danced but they will get up there and dance with the bride or groom. Usually funny songs about money, or sweet songs about friendship work best.

- "I wanna be rich" Cab Calloway
- "Money" Pink Floyd
- "If I had a million dollars" Bare naked ladies
- "Money for nothing" Dire Straights
- "Take the money and run" Steve Miller Band
- "Money money money" Abba
- "Beer Money" Kip Moore
- "For the Love of Money" O'Jays
- "Billionaire" Travie McCoy
- Custom _____

Snowball Dance Yes No

The snowball dance is when you start with the bride and groom on the dance floor, then the DJ stops the music, and tells each the bride and groom go grab someone out of the audience to dance with them. So then you have 4 people on the dance floor. After a few more seconds of dancing, the DJ tells those 4 people to go grab someone from the crowd to dance with. If you repeat this a couple of times, all of the sudden you have a full dance floor. This is fun and can get ANY crowd going.

Song: _____

The Shoe Game Yes No

The shoe game is usually done during dinner as entertainment, this works especially well for sit down served meals that can take longer. In this, the bride and groom sit back to back on the dance floor in chairs. This way they can't see each other. Also, they each have one of each others shoes. The DJ would then ask questions about the couple, to see how well they know each other. For example, the DJ might ask, "who controls the remote?" The couple would each then hold up the shoe of the person they thought controlled the remote. Another questions might be "who is the better kisser?", so then the couple would each hold up the shoe of the person they thought was the better kisser. Usually this is funny because the bride and groom might each have a different opinion about who is the better kisser, or who said I love you first, and it makes for great dinner entertainment and fun.

Who's the Bride? Yes No

This one is a lot of fun. For this, we put the groom in a chair, on the dance floor, blind-folded. As he is blindfolded we announce to all the guests, that we need lady volunteers. Then we explain that each lady is going to line up and give the groom a kiss on the cheek. When he knows that it is his bride he will rip off the blindfold and see who it is. It's always hilarious if he guesses wrong, and if he guesses right you get a room filled with "awws". This is fun to do while the cake is being served, or at the end of Dinner.

Trivia Table Release Yes No

This doesn't work well with large crowds over 125 people, but is a fun way to release tables to the buffet. Instead of calling tables numbers, have the guests compete to see who goes to the buffet next. The bride and groom need to prepare enough questions to equate to 2 questions per table. So if you have 10 guest tables, then you need 20 questions. The DJ asks a question about the Bride/Groom...such as "What is the Groom's Major?" and whichever gets the answer correct first, is the next table in line at the buffet.

Song Table Release Yes No

It gets so boring just hearing the DJ call "Table #1", then 5 minutes later "Table #2", then a few minutes later "Table #3" (See how boring it is?). Instead of numbering the tables, name them after a SONG. This way, when your guests hear the song, they go to the buffet. It's a fun way to release the tables, and pick your dinner music at the same time.

Copy Cat Dance Yes No

The DJ invites all the guests to the dance floor, and everyone gets in a circle. The Bride and/or Groom will start in the middle. When the song plays, the Bride and/or Groom will do some sort of dance move. All of the guest sin the circle would then copy/mimic that dance move. Following that, whoever is in the middle would then go pick the next person out of the circle to be in the middle and perform a dance move for people to copy.

A quick thought on Wedding Games/Dances

Each wedding reception should be unique. Certain wedding games fit certain receptions. We want to include everything you want, but we don't want you to include anything you don't want. Think about how you want your reception to go, and we will help you create the perfect vibe you are looking for.
